The single start time for Millburn Central is working very well. The buses are on time in the morning and afternoon, and the efficiency throughout the building is increased.

The new schedule and system for RtI problem solving is going very well. Each grade level team meets formally once each month to discuss the reading, math, and behavior progress of each child in our school. Those students that are in need of additional instruction in a particular area are then matched with an intervention.

The 24-hour Challenge, and Camp Timber Lee events are just around the corner. These events are very important for developing a sense of connection to the school community.
